The Delphi Congressman's Panegyric of His Dead Chieftain.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DELPHI, Ind., Sept. 14.-The Hon. C. B. Landis, of this city, as all other members of Congress from Indiana, feels the loss of a personal friend in the death of President McKinley. Speaking of the sad theme that is on the mind of the whole world to-day, Mr. Landis said:

"The affectionate regard in which the President was held in Washington knew no party line. Democratic senators and representatives loved him and vied with their Republican colleages in paying tribute to his beautiful character and attractive personality. I recall a visit to the White House during my first term in Congress. Governor Dockery, of Missouri, was then in Congress and after seeing the President we left together. Reaching the portico Dockery caught me by the lapei of my coat and bringing me face to face with him said: 'Landis, I'm a Missouri Demoerat, but I want to say to you that that up-stairs whom you Republicans most lovable character that it has ever been my fortune to meet in public life." ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

Proclamation by State Officers-Floral Memorial Parade to Be Given at Cincinnati.

CANTON, O., Sept. 14.-Canton has never before been so bowed down with sorrow as it was to-day. In the place of the usual business bustle of Saturday stagnation prevailed and unusual quiet pervaded the stores. A Sabbath-like calm enveloped the shops. The single exception was the dry goods stores. There the demand for drapery for mourning decorations threatened to create a famine. On every side could be seen expressions of bereavement, from the few about the large buildings.

Flags are at half-staff everywhere. Business has been generally put aside. Most of the manufactories suspended operations. Everywhere a spirit of depression prevailed. This morning, when the Repository distributed the news, the fire alarm and the church bells of the city sounded the death knell of the hopes of the thousands who | CLARK-Miss Nannie A. "It is my painful duty to officially announce to the citizens of this city the death of our fellow-townsman, William McKinley, President of the United States, who died in the city of Buffalo at 2:15 a. m. this day, from wounds received on the 6th instant at the hands of a cowardly assassin. "In the death of our esteemed citizen and friend, the city has lost one who had endeared himself to us all, and whose memory will ever live in the hearts of his countrymen. His life, whether as a civilian or soldier, statesman or President, is a noble example for the emulation of our American

"His pure life and great devotion to his beloved wife made him revered in every American home. That we may give expressions of our deepest sorrow with the Nation that now mourns the loss of its beloved President, I do order that the Nation's flag be placed at half-staff on all public buildings for a period of thirty days, and that all business places and private residences be appropriately dressed in mourning. The President's comrades in Canton Post,

No. 25, G. A. R., telegraphed as follows to Secretary Cortelyou, at Buffalo. "The comrades of Canton Post, No. 25 Department of Ohio, G. A. R., desire through you to express their profound sorrow at the death of their esteemed comrade, William McKinley; and to extend their deepest sympathy to his bereaved wife in this dark hour of affliction. Dr. Manchester, of the First Methodist Church, sent this telegram to Secretary Cortelyou on behalf of the members of the board of trustees of the church, of which President McKinley has been a member for many years: "Please assure Mrs. McKinley of the profound sorrow of the trustees of the First Methodist Episcopal Church." Entire National Guard at Funeral. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14.-The entire National Guard of Ohio will attend the funeral of the late President at Canton. Maj. Gen. Charles Dick will be in command of the troops, which will number not less than four thousand. The State Emergency Board met to-night and appropriated $75,000 to de-fray the expenses of mobilizing the guard at Canton and of decorating the Statehouse. Governor Nash received a telegram from Senator Hanna, at Buffalo, saying it would be impossible to comply with the request to have the body of the late President brought to Columbus.

CINCINNATI'S FLORAL MEMORIAL.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.-Elaborate preparations have been made here for the opening of the fall festival next Monday with a floral parade. The directors were in session during the night and decided to change hundreds of workmen are working on memorial designs. Every one in the parade will wear mourning and the horses and vehicles will all be draped. The city had been more elaborately decorated for the carnival here next week than for any occasion in its history. To these decorations on the buildings and recently-constructed designs along the streets were added heavy draperies of mourning so as to make a most impressive appearance. The Chamber of Commerce and the Stock Exchange were closed; there were no markets, and there was a very general suspension of business of all kinds. Archbishop William Henry Elder to-day issued the following:

"In view of the sad calamity befallen our country in the assassination of President McKinley, we direct that for four successive Sundays the reverend pastors and chaplains recite with the people the litany of the saints, after the principal mass, to turn away the anger of God-to implore His protection on our people. The day of the funeral we desire that the mass for peace be celebrated as solemnly as possible, and that after the gespel be recited the prayer 'for the authorities of the country,' found in the prayer-book of the Baltimore Council and other books. He was foremost in the support school children, with their teachers, and of all measures that subserved the commercial interests of the country. His last speech at Buffalo marked him as a statesman of broad views and a champion of a world-wide commerce, upon which so much of our future prosperity depends. He was an American of the highest type, both in official and private life, and one whom all men might well be proud of. Representing vast constituency traveling between the North and South, we are especially desirous of placing upon record that to President McKinley this country stands indebted for the obliteration of sectional lines and the reunion of our country, not alone on the map, but in the hearts of all people. ## Looking Around

It is a good plan to look around in buying, especially line of ruffle SWISS CURTAINS in Wall Paper and Decorations. So look around. Look thoroughly, and then-look here. We'll interest you. See the advance styles in our windows; 1902 patterns six months in advance, secured by our manager during his recent Eastern trip. Look in and you will see we lead.
